Melville Boot Association Record

Melville squashed any thoughts that complacency may be creeping into their line-up with a staggering 51 goal performance against bottom team Midland last Sunday.

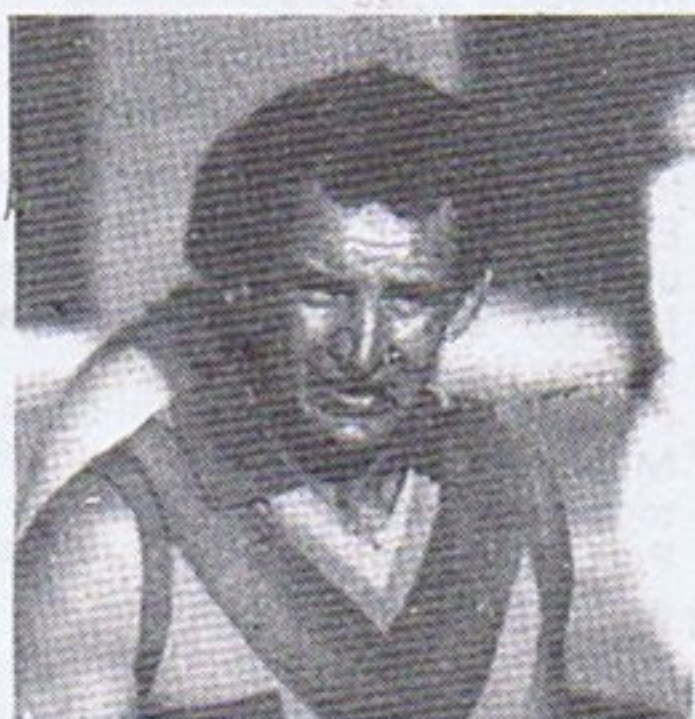

With 11 straight victories behind them this season, one would have forgiven Melville for relaxing a little against Midland.

But the competition leaders turned on an unbelievable goal scoring spree, kicking 51.29 to 1.5 in an awesome display of their ruthless attitude this year.

Mosman Park continue to impress and they had little trouble in beating Swan Valley last week 25.21 to 2.5. Mosman Park kicked 18 goals in the first half, but then heavy rain fell in the final two quarters, their scoring rate slowed considerably.

Southern Port-Hamilton had to struggle all the way against Belmont in what was easily the best game of the round. The Port team, second on the premiership ladder, led by just two goals at three quarter time. However they produced their best football of the match in the crucial final term and moved away from a very determined Belmont side to win 19.11 to 11.14.

Today three of the top four teams take on the three bottom teams. But hopefully today's results won't be as one-sided as last week.

Swans Swamped

However it's unlikely there will be any upsets. The race for a second semi-final berth is now on in earnest with Mosman Park, Southern Port and Cockburn all in with a chance of joining Melville in the second-semi.

For that reason percentage is vital at this stage of the season and the top team will be out to score big winning margins.

Mosman Park with the talent of full-forward David Harvey, ruck-rover Ian Earl, defender Gavin Hambley and utility player Jerome Clayton should be far too strong for Midland at the Perrott Reserve.

Swan Valley, disappointing against Mosman Park last week, will rebound today against Southern Port, but the Port team, cannot afford to lose this game and with so much at stake, will win.

MASKOS IN TOP FORM

Sam Maskos returned to his best last Sunday for Southern port-Hamilton and with support coming from defenders Kevin Pausin and Colin Van Raalte ruck-rover Gary Caple and ruckman John Florenca, Southern Port will win.

In the other W.A.F.A game, Cockburn will have to keep on their toes against Belmont. Cockburn have been experiencing a slump lately, but they should come out of it today and win.

In the league side we were beaten by a vastly better side. It wasn't that we didn't have anybody trying, it was undisciplined football. If we are to beat these top teams then our performance has to be better organised.

Better players on the day were; D. Pendlebury, G. Covebtry, M. Josie.

The reserves had a victory and it was great to see the courage and determination displayed by all the players.

We note that the opposition played someone last Sunday, apparently with the blessing of the W.A.F.A and if this situation is allowed to remain as status quo then a further look at the regulations regarding permits, etc should be re-examined if the Association is to grow and not go backwards, as seems to be the case.

COCKBURN SET FOR PLACE IN FINALS

After a week's break from football, and a successful Cabaret, our players and supporters should be refreshed and eager to start the club's final round of fixtures for the 1984 season.

There would need to be a drastic loss of form for any of our teams not to make the final four at the end of the year. The objective of all teams will now be to finish in the top two positions of the premiership ladder, which will allow them to play off in the second semi-finals.

Our colts and reserves teams have only to continue their good form of the previous rounds to achieve this objective. The league team must beat the teams that they went down to in the previous round (Melville, Southern Port-Hamilton and Mosman Park) in order to be certain of playing off in the second semi-final.

Randall Prowse, Eddie Groves, Ian Warburton and Glenn Prowse were our best players in the last league game, against Midland. In the reserves game, Phil Gerovich, Garry Stewart and Tony Northan were the outstanding contributors. In the colts game against Melville, Mike Ingraham, Bill Colleran Brett Kipling, and Gavin Smith were the best players for our team.

The club thanks those colts players who turned out for last weeks game, only to find that Mosman Park had forfeited the game. I am sure that such setbacks won't deter our colts players and it will only make them more eager to take the field this week.

After our very successful quiz night at the beginning of the year, the club is holding another Quiz Nite, which is to be held on Friday, 10th August 1984. The venue is Beale Park, commencing at 7.30p.m. and tickets can be purchased from Russell Morgan. The Quizmaster will again be Frank Johnson who made the previous quiz night such a great success. All players and supporters are encouraged to bring along their family and friends.

Congratulations to Fiona Coleman and Dave Nodari on the announcement of the engagement. Congratulations also go to Ron Spiteri and his girlfriend Marion, who became engaged two weeks ago. Good luck for the future to you all.

"Three teams in the final four in '84".

BELMONT ARE IMPROVING

This weeks improved team performances by both grades saw them sticking with them in both the reserves (the top team) and in the league (Third team).

Possibly if the three quarter efforts could have been extended into four quarter efforts, then it might have been a different outcome in both games. Good players in the reserves were; Peter Saviak, another good game in the ruck. Shane Knight, an attacking game from the half-back-flank and a top game from Mike Outridge who played doggedly in the centre.

The league game saw the best three quarters played by Belmont this year. Best Players were; Ross McKenzie, Chris Patience, brothers Gordon and Ray Chadd and Dave Sims.

Attendance at training recently has been appalling, so how about a few more guys getting down there on Wednesday and Fridays.

It was disappointing to note that none of the Southern Port guys stayed back for drinks after the game.
